I have set the label's width in interface builder to be larger than the width of the text, and the text is actually a little smaller than that. It looks okay in the storyboard, but in the simulator it looks out of place. How can I get it to fit in the space I have allotted for it? A: If you use the Attributes Inspector you can change the Text Alignment as shown below (You have to select the text, and click on the last item under Text Alignment section): The Wire has shared exclusive images from season four for the first time. The new season will focus on the all-new Bada and Bara. The Wire has shared exclusive images from the upcoming season four for the first time. The new season will focus on the all-new Bada and Bara. Noman, the gifted bookmaker with his own private sector betting service, Bada and Bara, is now in charge of the betting shops. It's his duty to help his boss Donette, Don's only sibling, a desperate woman trying to keep her family afloat. Their partnership is complex, which is why their shared past is of such importance, but that past is not as simple as it appears. New to the series is The Wire's return to Avon Barksdale's corner for the first time since season two. Avon and Madge Morton are back, as is much-loved familiar character, Asia Baby. Read our exclusive interview with Wendell Pierce and get an exclusive first look at the season below. Avon makes a dramatic return in the season premiere of # 3e33713323
