What is a PIN code for? To open the locks and doors of the car: close / open the doors, get rid of the alarm, turn on the ignition, etc. Pin codes can be installed in all vehicles and are listed on the nameplates. Depending on the car model, pin codes may contain combinations of letters, numbers, or special characters. These program options are often found in security and service alarm systems. For code identification of the car, for example, when handing over the car for repair. The pin code can be used to identify the owner of the vehicle. If the car is stolen, it can be used to prove that the immobilizer does not work: in this case, the car will be in a guarded parking lot until the first exit to the line. How to check the pin envelope PIN-candy looks like a regular square-shaped chocolate bar and has rounded edges. Pin - the envelope should be unfolded and pin-coffee should be attached to a special strip that is printed on the envelope itself. Within a few seconds, the program reads the security code of the pin form and compares it with the codes of other envelopes. If they match
