“HyperMotion is an elegant method to deliver authentic, responsive gameplay,” said Damon Hack, Creative Director for FIFA on Xbox One, PlayStation 4 and PC. “It is exciting to see how HyperMotion makes on-the-ball actions more lifelike, the feeling of momentum more tangible and the speed of play more realistic.” Alongside the introduction of "HyperMotion," the game introduces the ability to play as head coaches, players and managers, plus a number of other new features. Technology,” which uses motion capture data collected from 22 real-life players playing a complete, high-intensity football match in motion capture suits. The data collected from player movements, tackles, aerial duels and on-ball actions is used to power FIFA 22 gameplay. Alongside the introduction of "HyperMotion," the game introduces the ability to play as head coaches, players and managers, plus a number of other new features. The ability for players to use real-life motion data to customize the in-game experience has been a strong focus for the development of FIFA 22. In addition to the new “HyperMotion” technology, a new “Player Playbook” mechanic will allow players to tailor how the game plays to their own style of play. The system, which allows players to play the game in a number of ways including Attack, Defense, Steady-Midfield, Tactician and Double-Trouble, is a core pillar of the overall experience. “Player Playbooks” are going to be vital in FIFA 22,” said Hack. “They will allow you to craft your own unique playing style. Moreover, they will give you a powerful tool to tailor FIFA on Xbox One, PS4 and PC to your own playing style. In-game User Interfaces will also allow you to access Player Playbooks for custom configuration.” “We also learned a lot during the development of FIFA 20 on Xbox One and PS4. With the release of FIFA on PC, we will be able to apply that learning to the further enhancement of the core features we enjoy in FIFA on Xbox One and PS4. We are excited to continue to refine
