The most impressive thing about this tool is its ease of use. It only takes a few mouse clicks to convert images from a single folder or from multiple folders. Converting multiple folders is what will really benefit many users. The invention relates to a method for the detection of a malfunction of a laminate decoder, which is a mixture of a layer of varnish and a gold-coloured layer, in a weaving machine, which is controlled and monitored by a control system, and which is composed of a loom warp delivery system in the form of a cloth beam having a plurality of yarn pick-up means, of a banding mechanism comprising one or a plurality of banding rollers, of a banding unit connected to the banding mechanism, of a banding device connected to the banding unit and having a rotary-driven tension device, and of a wiper machine connected to the banding unit for the removal of a banding strip, and of a frame structure, in which a decoration area, provided for the detection of the gold-coloured layer, is movable into or from the inspection position. Methods of the aforementioned kind are known as layer detection methods (cf., for example, EP-A-0554871). Layer detection methods are used for controlling and monitoring the performance of the components of a weaving machine, or for controlling and monitoring a process of the weaving machine. They can be used, for example, for detecting a malfunction of a banding unit which is used for the decoupling or the joining of the weft yarn. In recent years, the increasing costs of labour, paper and ribbon bands have led to the development of methods in which paper or silk bands are replaced by gold-coloured bands. These bands, which are usually made of plastic sheet material, are glued to the belt with the aid of a varnish, so that the cloth belt itself appears silver-coloured. The manufacture of gold-coloured bands takes place in a special process tool. The manufacture of a gold-coloured varnish, on the other hand, is already known (cf., for example, EP-A-0450617), in which case the varnish is applied to a pressing belt in a wet process using a printing screen, or in a dry process, using screen printing or tampon printing. German patent DE 41 29 921 describes a layer detection device for use in a loom warp delivery system which is provided with a layer
