"Our goal with FIFA is to deliver the best football experience out there. We will continue to invest in FIFA and our players as we strive to give our fans the most authentic experience possible." With the game's new all-new MatchDay Experience, delivering a fresh new fan experience, FIFA is the only sport to offer a unique and immersive experience with social features and a player view that no other football game offers. FIFA FIFA is back with a host of new gameplay innovations, including an all new Player Intelligence engine; dynamic Player Precision Dribbling; Precision Dribble Control; 2,000 new player animations; a new game engine that's twice as efficient and allows for increased player and environment detail; and a new innovative, crowd-based gameplay experience. New FIFA Intelligence The game's Player Intelligence system has been redesigned to provide a deeper understanding of the game's diverse set of players by building on player-reported data, on-field data and new AI-powered methods. The new Player Intelligence system delivers a more natural, flexible movement and collision response for players, while also giving players feedback as to their player performance within the game. FIFA Intelligence is designed to get players back on the ball and back into the game faster, while also helping players execute more precise and natural touches for the game. Players can also work with their coaches to ensure they are playing in a way that helps them perform best. New FIFA Precision Dribbling Players will now be able to glide, spin, cut and play a variety of passes in dribbles. Players will now learn to use their intelligence to play around their markers by dribbling a variety of passes, with easier dribbles that allow for greater player control. FIFA players will have greater control and fluidity with their dribbling, giving players greater control of how they use the ball and what kind of touch they deliver.
