the m8 gte is a truly legendary brand in motorsports. the bmw has a history of dominating endurance racing and four-hour event throughout the past decades. it took the manufacturer 30 years to find the perfect blend of technology and driver talent that made that name synonymous with big success in endurance racing. it took about two decades to continue the advantage and build a brand new car that is faster than the previous version and has the same outstanding driver line-up. this car is for sure the best handling the bmw has ever had and it is proven from years of racing. for 2017 and 2018 its powered by a bmw m8. at the factory it is combined with a bmw m6 gt3, a v8 supercar, a v10 supercar and a v10 endurance race car, which together take the car to a new level. the m8 gte delivers the largest and deepest v10 engine, the most ultra-sharp and powerful v10 engine in the world and has an amazing amount of power! in addition it has the highest grip level of any bmw on the market today! the corvette has a very special spot in the racing world. the cars were early on the scene and have a long history. the corvette has also been an explosive brand in gt racing throughout the years. the 2017 corvette c7.r have a proven track record, winning lots of races and even a le mans 24 hour race! these cars will be driven by mclaren drivers! with that as our first inspiration, we set out to create the most realistic physics simulation of a corvette the world has ever seen! from this perspective we started working on the different classes: gte, gtc, rgt and, of course, r-gt! based on these highly influential cars we created a world first racing simulation, which we believe to be the most faithful representation of a corvette in a racing simulation. with that in mind, we are proud to offer you the first ever class pack dedicated to one of the most highly demanded vehicles in motorsports!
