leaving the official xenforo website. since we have no control over the nature, content and availability of these external sites, the village cannot be responsible for any aspect of your use of them. the first thing that i was asking myself, is if i'm going to make this an online game, it should be multiplayer. so, i would have to make a network manager, which i'm not sure if i'll make. but if i do, it'll be something very simple, like the one with a java implementation. a client would join a server, and then i would send messages between the clients. then, the server would tell a client if there are more or less clients, and every client would keep a list of its friends, and then you send messages between them. in order for a client to keep a list of its friends, it'd have to send a message to the server that a client is online. the server would check that every 30 seconds, and the server would send back a message telling that a client is online or not, so it would keep a list of the online clients, and it would tell the other clients when to tell a client to send a message. but i don't know if i'm going to make an online game, so i don't know if i'll implement that or not.
