Field of the Invention The present invention relates to printed circuit boards (PCBs) and more particularly, to a face-up PCB and its manufacturing method. 2. Description of the Prior Art A face-up PCB is a type of PCB that is manufactured by mounting a main circuit board on a carrier board. The carrier board and the main circuit board are electrically connected with each other through conductive connectors. The conductive connectors are usually made of conductive solder paste. The solder paste is printed on the contact pads of the carrier board and then melted to the contact pads of the main circuit board, and finally the two contact pads are electrically connected with each other. However, in a face-up PCB, besides the soldering process, there is no other process to bond the carrier board to the main circuit board. The main circuit board and the carrier board are connected with each other only by being pressed. Therefore, when the motherboard is installed on the main circuit board, the motherboard would be deformed, and the contact area between the motherboard and the main circuit board will be reduced, and even decreased. As a result, the connection between the motherboard and the main circuit board will be adversely affected, thus reducing the quality of the PCB. Therefore, there is a need to improve the face-up PCB.Q: If i have.sh file will the install node.js command working or not? I am installing node.js by using below command
